

Dragon Tree

Scientific Name: Dracaena marginata

Features:

- 1. This plant is native to Madagascar.
- 2. A specific species of Dracaena, called Dracaena draco can ooze out red blood like resin when damaged. There is a legend among natives that when a hundred headed dragon was killed by Hercules, this plant originated from the blood of that dragon. Hence, the plant received its name, Dragon tree.
- 3. This plant is an excellent indoor plant as it can filter out harmful chemicals like xylene, toluene, formaldehyde, and trichloroethylene as claimed by NASA Clean Air Study.